Returns are calculated using the unit price which uses the net asset values for the relevant month end. This price may differ from the actual unit price for an investor applying for or redeeming an investment. Actual unit prices will be confirmed following any transaction by an investor. Returns quoted are before tax, after Class 'H' fees and costs, assume all distributions are reinvested and are annualised for periods greater than one year.

Performance and Activity

The AMP Capital Sustainable Share Fund - Off-platform Class H (the Fund) returned -5.76% (Before tax and after fees) in the month of Jan, compared to the benchmark return of -6.18%

Assisting the Fund's performance in January were underweight positions in BHP Billiton, Woodside Petroleum, WorleyParsons, which cut its profit guidance for the 2010 financial year due to weak power markets and a significant decline in the US refining and petrochemicals industries, and Lihir Gold; and overweight positions in CSR, which received an expression of interest from Chinese group Bright Food regarding an acquisition of Sugarco, and ResMed. Detracting from the Fund's performance during the month were overweight positions in Transfield Services, Nomad Building Solutions and Downer EDI, which traded lower despite having minimal exposure to US$ earnings and the US economy issues which plagued WorleyParsons; and underweight positions in Commonwealth Bank, which performed comparatively strongly after upgrading its financial year 2010 profit guidance to A$2.9 billion, Macquarie Group and Westfield Group.

Market commentary

After a positive start to the year, Australian shares were then dragged lower by global weakness over second half of January. The Australian share market as measured by the S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index fell 6.2% during the month. In particular, resources stocks were hit hard by concerns over monetary tightening in China and reports that rent tax on resources companies may be increased as part of the Henry Tax Review. The worst performing sectors in January were Energy (-9.8%), Materials (-9.1%) and Consumer Staples (-8.4%). Karoon Gas Australia, Aquila Resources and WorleyParsons were the largest detractors from the Energy sector, whereas Panoramic Resources, Mirabela Nickel and Mincor Resources were the worst performing stocks in the Materials sector. All sectors recorded negative performance during the month, but relatively better performing sectors included Information Technology (-0.8%), Property (-2.9%) and Telecommunications Services (-3.1%). SMS Management and Computershare were the only positive Information Technology stocks, and Westfield was the only positive performer from the Property sector.

Outlook

Although Australian shares have been range bound since mid-October, our assessment remains that this is just a consolidation of the strong gains seen between March and October. The cyclical bull market that began in March has much further to go. The broad macro economic backdrop for shares remains favourable with the global economic and profit recovery continuing, interest rates remaining low and still plenty of cash on the sidelines. Our year-end target for the Australian ASX 200 and All Ordinaries indices remains 5600.
